DVD CREDITS:

Producer/writer/director: Alison Wotherspoon

DOP: Nima Nabili Rad

Editors: Simon Herden and Sam Matthews

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS:

This educational resource on DVD was produced as part of a Flinders University Research Grant (FRG) involving Flinders University & Unley High School. It is part of a package of resources used in South Australia to address the issue of school bullying. Being evidence based makes it unique amongst audiovisual resource materials on anti-bullying interventions. Research by Professors Phillip Slee & Rosalind Murray-Harvey, from the School of Education at Flinders University, used questionnaires and focus groups to collect data from over 700 students at Unley High School over the period of a year. Interviews were also conducted with key school and health personnel. Students worked with the director, Ms Alison Wotherspoon from Screen Studies at Flinders University, to workshop, script, and perform the scenarios on the DVD.

THANKS TO:

The students and staff of Unley High School and Greg Cox of the Department of Education & Children's Services (DECS).
